

Project Update

Our last meeting was on 22 May and we talked about what we could achieve if we set up a group with agreed aims and objectives. We produced a document with the detail of what we discussed.

We sent this information to all the people who have come to our meetings so far, and asked whether people think it is a good idea to set up a group. Everyone who replied said this would be a good idea. So now we need to confirm that we are going ahead with this, and agree who will be running the group.

We are holding a meeting on Wednesday 17 July to decide who will be running the group and agree its aims (See box below). Please come along to share your ideas and show your support. We already have some people who have volunteered to be on the committee, but more volunteers are always welcome.
